N/A
I think they should put up more signs for joining a dub I usually have to find an organization I'd like to join on my own and I'm not sure how to join or the meetings for the dub more advertising because I think a lot of students don't know the range of organizations available
More openness to general population
None
Try to eliminate how political some organizations are.
More e-mails of Facebook notifications of call-outs being held on campus.
I think they could be more integrated. It seems the student organizations target a specific type of student.
Officers can be more friendly, but I haven't had that problem very much! Overall great experience in my dubs.
Not very organized when it comes to career fairs or agency tours
Callouts more often throughout semester
None...they are generally well run
Hang more signs and put contact information on the signs. I always see dubs I am interested in, but I can never figure out who to email. Or I email someone and never hear back because they weren't the right person.
